

HE GOT TWELVE MONTHS.

Judge Carter Sentences a Liquor Seller This Morning.

The Criminal Court is still grinding along, and Judge Carter is keeping the prisoners on the anxious seat.

Emmett Hires was sentenced this morning for twelve months in the State prison, after having been convicted of the charge of the illegal sale of liquor.

Kid Cross was acquitted of a charge of grand larceny, and Jim Dixon was convicted at his trial for wearing the uniform of the State militia without legal right. He was fined $10 and costs, or thirty days in the county jail.

Joe Bush is on trial this morning for selling booze, and there is considerable evidence being brought in against him.

Abraham Brown, of Winterton, N. Y., had a very remarkable experience; he says: "Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease; two called it kidney trouble; the fourth blood poison, and the fifth stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me; so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters, which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me more good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranteed to cure blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by Barclay & Groover druggists, 50c. dec-dw

The Banks in 1907 and 1893.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

In the West, as in all the rest of the country, the conditions are different now from what they were in the most recent of the financial disturbances. In a few weeks in mid-summer of 1893 there were more than 1100 bank failures throughout the United States. Seventy or eighty will cover all the bank wrecks which have taken place in the country, as a whole, since the money scare started in the closing days of October. Moreover, the proportion of the suspended banks which have been reopening their doors in the past six weeks is much greater than it was in the corresponding time in 1893. The banks stand together better than they did then. Each bank is stronger than it was at that time. The country's trade and finances are in a decidedly more stable condition than they were then.

The recent scare has tested the solvency of all the big financial institutions of the country. Ninety-nine out of every hundred of them have stood the strain well, and will ultimately be strengthened by the flurry instead of weakened. The country's banking system was never in better shape than it is in now, and when normal times return in a few months all the banks will be strengthened.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS MEET.

Held Called Session Today for Purpose of Leasing Convicts.

The County Commissioners met in called session here today for the purpose of receiving bids for the leasing of county convicts. There were two companies represented. The former lessees, S. A. Rawls & Co., have been temporarily awarded the contract. The matter will come again before final contract is made.

A Real Wonderland.

South Dakota, with its rich silver mines, bonanza farms, wide ranges and strange natural formations, is a veritable wonderland. At Mound City, in the home of Mrs. E. D. Clapp, a wonderful case of healing has lately occurred. Her son seemed near death with lung and throat trouble. "Exhausting coughing spells occurred every five minutes," writes Mrs. Clapp. "when I began giving Dr. King's New Discovery, the great medicine, that saved his life and completely cured him." Guaranteed for coughs and colds, throat and lung troubles by Barclay & Groover druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. dev-dw

IN THE DAYS OF '64.

The Last Christmas of the Southern Confederacy.

"We had some memorable Christmas days in the South during the war," said Mrs. Zebulon B. Vance, wife of the late United States senator from North Carolina. "That of 1861 was different from any that had preceded it, because we were in arms against the federal government, and many of the male guests at southern homes that day wore Confederate uniforms. Much of the talk at the Christmas dinner table was of sieges and battles and marches, but we were all full of hope and confidence.

"Christmas, 1862, found us but poorly prepared to celebrate it. Our supplies were few, and Confederate money was at a heavy discount. Then came the bitter year of 1863, with the fall of Vicksburg and the defeat at Gettysburg. With sad faces, harmonizing well with their dresses of coarse black stuff, the women of the South devoted themselves to picking lint and spinning and weaving for husbands, fathers, brothers and sweethearts in the field.

"Christmas, 1864—the last Christmas of the war—dawned, and what a gloomy festival it was for the people of the South. Of manufactured products we had practically none. Our hairpins were made of long black thorns, with a ball of sealing wax on the end. We had made into dresses every scrap of available material, while our feet were encased in home-made cloth shoes. The slaves, having heard of 'de 'manel-pation proclamation,' knew that they were free and had all scattered away. Desolation seemed to reign over everything. Of all the Christmas days I have known that last Christmas in the South in wartime is the one of all others that I am most certain never to forget."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Children's

favorite tonic is White's Cream Vermifuge, the cure for worms and all children's diseases. It not only kills the worms, but removes the mucus and slime in which they build their nests. Its action on the child is mild and leaves him in a healthy condition. Joe Daniel, Surmac, Tenn., says that he gave one of his children White's Cream Vermifuge when the doctor thought it had colic, and from the first dose the child passed 73 worms.
